授業の目的と概要/Course Objective	Middle Eastern countries have been witnessing extraordinary developments in their legal systems. Many countries are active actors in global developments and have become one of the world's leading financial and trade centers and/or preferred destinations for business, work, or tourism. On the other hand, Middle Eastern countries remain very "traditional" especially when it comes to issues relating to family law, women's and children's rights, fundamental freedoms etc. despite the various legal reforms that have taken place. This course aims to put all these developments into perspective and initiate students to the fascinating world of the Middle East. This course puts all these developments into perspective and initiates students to the fantastic world of the Middle East with all its complexities...and contradictions.
