Detailed Syllabus Information

| Course Subtitle | Introduct | Introduction to Common Law | | | |
|---------------------------|--|--|--|--|--|
| Language of the Course | English | | | | |
| Learning Methods | Listening and watching face-to-face/online class: Listening and watching a lecture, video, or demonstration, face-to-face or via online (e.g., attending a face-to-face lecture, watching an on-demand video) Reading: Reading books and academic papers (e.g., summarizing an academic paper, reading information on a website) Discussion: Learning through question-and-answer interactions and exchanges of opinions among students and between students and the instructor (e.g., pair/group discussion, online chat, one-on-one guidance for writing an academic paper) Common law is one of the most important and influential legal systems in the world. Originally developed in England, it has spread throughout the world to become the legal system of many leading countries such as the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, etc. The main objective of this course is to explain the core issues of common law in general and to explain how common law works and operates. | | | | |
| Course Objectives | | | | | |
| Learning Goals | 1 | Upon completing this course, students are expected to become more familiar with the peculiarities of the common law system, its fundamental notions and concepts, and how it operates. Especially, students 1. Understand the characteristics of the common law legal system | | | |
| | 2 | Identify the main representatives of the common law legal tradition and their specificities | | | |
| | 3 | To be able to illustrate how the common law legal tradition differs from other legal traditions (notably the civil law legal tradition) | | | |

[&]quot;Course of Media Class" are classes in which more than half of the classes are held in places other than classrooms by making advanced use of various media.

| Requirements, Prerequisites | There are no requisites for this course except interest and willing to learn. However, good English language skills are necessary to be able to follow the lectures and take part in the discussions. | | | |
